Background

In 1975, the Government of the Punjab decided to set up four Engineering Colleges at Taxila, Multan, Faisalabad and Bahawalpur in the same order of priority. In accordance with the decision of the Punjab Cabinet, the first Engineering College initially started functioning at Sahiwal and was later, in 1978, shifted to Taxila as a second campus of the University of Engineering and Technology, Lahore. Later its status was raised to an independent University of Engineering and Technology. The proposal for the second College of Engineering and Technology at Multan met the approval of the ECNEC in September 1990.

The College of Engineering and Technology was thus established as a Constituent College of the Bahauddin Zakariya University, Multan. Its broad objective is to produce engineers at undergraduate level with bachelor's degree in conventional fields of Civil, Building & Architectural, Electrical, Computer and Mechanical Engineering to meet the engineering and technological manpower requirements of the province/country.

The College offers courses leading to the award of 4-Year engineering degree in Civil, Electrical, Building & Architectural, Computer and Mechanical Engineering. The College envisages to provide for teaching facilities to more than 1000 students at an annual intake of more than 250 students per year (in all disciplines of Engineering) after the completion of the project. Due to certain spatial, financial and administrative constraints, the College started Civil Engineering Program in 1994. In 1997, Electrical Engineering Program was started. In 2004 three new disciplines namely Building & Architectural Engineering, Computer Engineering and Mechanical Engineering were started.

Seventy acres of land at the campus of the University has been allocated for the construction of various academic and administrative blocks of the College. The plans of the administrative and academic blocks, with adequate space for class rooms and laboratories have been prepared. Purchase of equipment for laboratories and books for library had already been taken in hand. The construction work of the Civil Engineering Department was completed in January, 1998. The construction work of Electrical Engineering Department was completed in January, 2000 and that of Mechanical Engineering Department was completed in May 2007. Moreover, the extension of Civil and Electrical Engineering departments are also completed. The construction of a boys hostel to accommodate 600 students, seven residences for teaching staff and twelve residences of other staff have also been completed.

The University College of Engineering & Technology excels in innovative teaching and research, in developing practical applications and approaches to problems and areas of study, and in preparing professionals and leaders who will have worldwide influence on technologies and societies.

Chart. The applicants for each category are grouped separately. Then on the basis of the percentage admission marks, comparative merit of the applicants comprising the group is prepared. The applicants belonging to a category thus compete for admission amongst themselves for the seats allocated to it.

A3.7 Transfer on the basis of given preferences

In case a seat in any discipline/ category of higher preference given by a candidate falls vacant and he is eligible for transfer to that discipline/ category on the basis of his merit, he shall be automatically transferred to the discipline/ category. He will have no right to retain his admission in the previous discipline/ category unless he submit a written with drawl of higher preference well in time before displaying the next merit list. The candidate whose name appears in any merit list against any category/ discipline (even of lower preference) will have to deposit fee so that his name may be considered for transfer to the higher preference (if available) as mentioned above. If a candidate fails to deposit fee at any stage when he is offered admission, he will be taken out of the admission process and have no right to claim for admission against any category/ discipline.

A3.8 Unutilized Seats

If some seats allocated to any category remain unutilized after expiry of the merit list advertised in the newspaper then those seats will be filled according to the policy defined by the BZU Admission Committee on the recommendation of Admission Committee, UCE&T, BZU Multan.

Introduction

The city of Multan is the center of cotton producing region of Southern Punjab and therefore need was being felt for an institute that could provide skilled and technically trained manpower to the local textile industry especially one based on Cotton.

The Export Promotion Bureau (E.P.B.) in collaboration with Multan Textile Education Trust took the initiative and founded the Institute of Handloom and Home Textile Technology (hereafter referred to as I.H.H.T.T.). The I.H.H.T.T. offered a three years' Diploma of Associate Engineering (D.A.E. from now on) in textile technology.

Unfortunately, as more and more science got involved in industrial production of textiles, the inevitability presented itself and a higher degree became quite indispensable. As a result I.H.H.T.T. was taken over by the university and a degree programme for Textile Engineering was launched in August 2004 A.D.

Students can choose from four available specializations namely Yarn Manufacturing, Fabric Manufacturing, Textile Chemistry and Garments Manufacturing. Numbers of seats are varied each year to reflect the changing trends in the market for textile engineering graduates.

The syllabus(i) has / have been designed to give students firm grip on not only engineering concepts but also to enhance their management capabilities. Out of 44 courses offered; 12% are of Natural Sciences, 15% are of Humanities, Social and Management Sciences and remaining 73% are of Engineering (distribution based on credit hour(s) of courses offered).

Introduction

The Department of Arabic was established in 1985. Initially, the Department started functioning in a barrowed building of a Government School. But after a short span of time, the Department was shafted to the "Language Block" of Bahauddin Zakariya University, main Campus in 1986. In the beginning, the Department had a strength of 3 Staff members. Which at present has amounted to eight. Four of them hold Ph.D. and four hold M.Phil Degree. At present, Department is running M.A., M.Phil. and Ph.D. programs alongwith certificate course in Spoken Arabic.

The students of Arabic Department, after obtaining their degree of M.A., M.Phil and Ph.D., are serving in different walks of life all over the country and abroad.

The focus of the departmental interest is Arabic language and Literature. Language is considered the custodian of human knowledge. ### Introduction

The Department of English at the Bahauddin Zakariya University, Multan, was set up in 1975 when this University came into existence. It started working in a rented building at Gulgasht Colony, Multan. In 1980, it was moved to the Institute of Language (IOL) Block on Campus of the University.

The Department offers two Master's degree programs: MA English and MA English Language & Literature. MA English is predominantly a literature-based program, whereas M.A English (with specialization in Language & Literature) prepares students for effective teaching of English as a second/foreign language. For over a decade, the Department has been offering M.Phil in Linguistics as a pre-requisite for doctoral research. In recent years, M.Phil in Literature was also launched, however, these two M.Phil programs in Linguistics and Literature were merged together in 2009.

The current M.Phil Program in English combines the study of Linguistics and Literature leading to Ph.D either in Linguistics or Literature.

In keeping with the expertise of the faculty, the Ph.D courses are specially designed offering a wide-ranging array of courses including British and American Literatures; Postcolonial Studies: Women's Writings; Language and Gender; New Literacy Studies, apart from core courses in traditional Linguistics and Literature.

Prof. Dr. Muhammad Zaffarullah, then Vice Chancellor, being a son of the soil, appreciated the idea of the establishment of the SASC and it came into being on May 23, 2009 after the approval of the relevant authorities. SASC has a brief history. The Saraiki Research Centre (SRC) was established on September 2, 2000. A few important research projects were completed and a number of books were published under its umbrella. It metamorphosed into the Department of Saraiki in May 2006, and the SASC intends to start diploma /certificate degree/programmes in the above mentioned disciplines. M.Phil programme in Saraiki is also on top priority. About two dozen research projects about the history, archaeology, culture, language and literature of the Saraiki region have been planned and completed. It is also going to launch a comprehensive publishing programme in near future and a number of books will be published in this year. The SASC arranges seminars, workshops, conferences, Mushairas and other literary and cultural activities regularly.

Introduction

The Faculty of Pharmacy, Bahauddin Zakariya University, Multan owes its origin to the Department of Pharmacy, established in 1976. Initially, it was housed in a rented building but later on it was shifted to a part of a borrowed building on Bosan Road, Multan. The Department moved to its present premises, at the University Campus in 1984.

With the start of Department in 1976 a three years course for the degree of B.Pharmacy was launched, which was then replaced by a four years course in 1979 on the recommendations of the University Grants Commission (Now HEC). B.Pharmacy (four year programme) has now been replaced by a five years Programme of Pharm.D. from the session 2003-2004. The Programme of studies for the degree of M.Phil. in the subject of Pharmaceutical Chemistry and Pharmaceutics was started in 1986 and M.Phil. in the subject of Pharmacology and Pharmacognosy have also been started in 1997. Ph.D Program in the subjects of Pharmaceutical Chemistry and Pharmaceutics have recently been started in 2012. The Department after its establishment, gradually strengthened its academic Programmes as a result of which in 1992, it was given the status of a separate Faculty of Pharmacy.

Library Facilities

An adequate collection of text books, reference books and research journals are available in the library of the Department/ Faculty covering various disciplines of Pharmacy. The books are also available to the students from the Book Bank of the University on loan basis. Internet facilities in computer lab is available for maintaining high standards of education in Pharmacy.

PGD

Post Graduate Diploma in Business & Industrial Mathematics and Computer Programming

There is a great need of trained manpower, equipped with the latest knowledge of computer hardware and software, for Business, Industrial and Government Organizations. The Centre for Advanced Studies in Pure and Applied Mathematics (CASPAM) has been playing a vital role to fulfill this demand to some extent by offering computer courses as part of the syllabus of M.Sc. program and Post Graduate Diploma in Business & Industrial Mathematics and Computer Programming. A wide range of courses is the part of the syllabus of this Diploma, along with the latest courses of Computer Science and Computer Applications. The syllabus of this Diploma has been designed in such a way that the Diploma holders from this Centre can contribute practically to fulfill the demand of skilled persons we lack and enhance the economy of our country.

Keeping in view, the high cost of education in reputed private institutions, a comfortable and affordable fee structure has been designed so that the students who cannot get admission in private institutions and professional courses can be trained to make useful and significant contribution in making our country prosperous. This PGD Diploma is also extremely helpful for those graduate students of Arts, who want to get professional/technical training in the fields of Business/Industrial management and computer programming and find jobs in Industry and other organizations.

The diploma is offered subject to the availability of classrooms and computer laboratory.

Eligibility

Applicants must be at-least graduate (in any field) or have equivalent degree with a minimum of 2nd division from a recognized university.

Merit

Introduction

The Institute of Computing came into existence in April 2009, as an up-gradation of the Department of Computer Science which was established in 1995. Today, the institute provides an excellent educational environment that aims at bringing out the best in the knowledge-seekers. As the computing industry matured, professional qualifications are becoming more and more essential. The taught curriculum encompasses the recommendation of IEEE and ACM joint committee on Computer Science Curriculum and also conforms to the recommendations of the National Curriculum Revision Committee in the Information Technology, Computer Science and Telecommunication Systems, duly approved by the Higher Education Commission, Ministry of Education and Ministry of Science and Technology.

The students in the Institute of Computing have almost unlimited access to computers and the professional software tools that go with them. The Institute has over 10 teaching laboratories/interactive classrooms, which are equipped with more than 400 Dual Core based multimedia PCs loaded with Windows XP, Linux, Sun V890 Server, Sun StorEdge 6610 SAN and Sun Ultra Sparc Enterprise System with 40 Sun Ray-I workstations. All these teaching laboratories/interactive classrooms are networked to 10 common Dual/Quad Xeon based servers. They are also connected to the university Fiber Optic based Campus LAN and to the outside world via HEC PERN-1 & PERN-2 network. Each of them is fitted with an overhead multimedia projector. The Institute also has the facility of Video Conferencing Room funded by the HEC, which will provide an opportunity of access and connectivity for the University to the human resource across the globe. It will help to boost the level of academic and research activity.

The Institute of Computing is also providing different services to the entire university. Firstly, the Institute of Computing is looking after the huge Fiber Optic based Campus LAN. Secondly, the official website of the University is also being maintained by the Institute. Thirdly, Internet access to the University, including students, faculty and staff members is being provided, monitored and controlled by the Institute. Last, but not the least, a specific section in the Institute provides the technical and support services to all the users of the computers in the University. For the CISCO Local Academy, CISCO Systems Inc. USA donated a bundle of equipment containing six CISCO 2800 Series Routers and three CISCO 2600 Series Catalyst Switches. The CCNA networking course has already been launched many times. It is useful for the people of Southern Punjab, since no proper network training facility is available in this area. It is also helpful in raising the quality of education in other programs especially Telecommunication Systems program, as computer networks are essential part of their studies. The detail of different academic programs offered by the Institute is given on the subsequent pages.

Schemes of the Study

The Institute of Computing follows the format as well as the outlines given by HEC for the undergraduate and graduate programs. The schemes of study and course outlines for Computer Science, Information Technology and Telecommunication Systems programs are available with the respective Divisions. The Institute has the right to modify, introduce and offer new courses in a study program in any semester as per HEC revised curricula and according to recent needs of the industry.

Admission Procedure

A candidate seeking admission to a program must apply for admission to the respective Division of the Institute of Computing on the prescribed application form which is available with the Treasurer/Authorized branch of the selected banks. The duly filled-in application form must be submitted to the Institute on or before the last date fixed by the University for the receipt of application forms for the Program within the University office hours. The application form must accompany the attested photocopies of the academic and relevant documents. Incomplete applications or application forms received after due date or delivered/submitted somewhere else will not be entertained.

Lists of selected candidates will be displayed only on the Notice Board of the Institute of Computing according to the prescribed admission schedule and will not be communicated by post or any other means.

Computer Science Programs

Computer Science degree is an excellent preparation for a future career. It sharpens the analytical skills of students as they discover the structures underlying software, stretches their creative talents as they design new systems and gives them the confidence to market their ideas to waiting world. The students will come to understand why systems work as they do - and what they learn will never go out of date for as long as people go on using computers. Although fashions in packages and programming languages come and go, the principles do not change and Computer Science is about principles. Yet it is more than that: the software packages we take for granted today are among the most complex artifacts ever created. To understand them one requires a degree of intellectual activity-matching that is required in any longer established Sciences.

Introduction

The Department of Statistics is one of those departments of the University that started functioning in a rented building in Gulgasht Colony right with the establishment of the University in 1975. It was shifted to its present premises, the Statistics and Mathematics Block at the University Campus in 1987. Beside its very humble start, the Department can now be compared with any top ranking teaching department of the subject in any university of Pakistan. The teaching faculty of the Department consists of Nine teachers; five of them hold Ph.D. degrees while four of them are holder M.Phil. Degree. At present four faculty members are pursuing their Ph.D.

The use of computer, for rapid processing of data and to get connected to the world, is the need of the time. To fulfill this need, the Department has equipped its laboratories with latest computers (Intel Core 2 Duo), multimedia projectors, scanners and audio-visual system. These laboratories provide all the facilities for Computing Statistics, Data Processing, Computer Programming and Data Analysis for research. Modern statistical packages like SAS, R, STATA, MINITAB, E-Views, and SPSS etc. are made available to the faculty members and researchers in the computer laboratory of the Department.

The Department is connected with the University Local Area Network (LAN) Server, providing internet facilities to the teachers, research scholars and the students. Printing services, on high quality printers, are also available.

The Department has a well-established library containing a variety of latest books and a collection of prominent research journals of the subject. The Department does not believe in quantity solely, therefore, good quality, expensive and rare books are also made available in the library. An audio-visual system has also been acquired to exhibit recorded lectures of experts of national and international repute to the students. Study tours of the students to various Statistics Departments/ Institutions and Organizations are also arranged by the Department as a part of their study program to highlight the importance and implementation of Statistics in practical life.

Since its inception, the Department has been offering classes of M.Sc Statistics. So far over 1600 students have been awarded Master of Science in Statistics. The Ph.D. Program in Statistics has been going on since 1995 and four scholars have earned their doctorate degrees while a number of scholars are progressing for their Ph.D. research work. Moreover, HEC awardees are also pursuing their research here as the Department has HEC accredited supervisors among its faculty. The Department started M.Phil. leading to Ph.D. program in 2001 on regular basis and a considerable number of students have earned their M.Phil degrees.

The Department is actively involved in research activities under the supervision of the senior faculty members of the Department. The Department participates enthusiastically, in all the activities for the promotion of research in the subject everywhere in Pakistan. The presentation of a variety of research papers, seminars, and lectures delivered by the faculty members and students at different forums are the testimony of its agility.

The graduates of the Department are employed in the Government, Semi Government, non- Govt. and Private organizations.

Admission

The detail of seats available for admission is given in the Chart No. I. The admission are made by the Departmental Admission Committee, according to the admission/ merit criteria, laid down by the University.

BS (4-Year)

BS (4-Year) program has been running under semester system since 2002. Bachelor degree so earned by students after sixteen years of schooling will be in line with the University accepted format of higher education and fulfills the requirements for its international recognition. After BS, students are eligible for admission to MS/ M.Phil. Program.

The major aims and objectives of the BS (4-Year) program in Statistics, are to develop solid foundation for the effective operational and strategic decisions using statistical theory in almost every discipline and to involve the graduates with the participation of project-based activities so that they can be trained and can pursue for higher degrees and research in the field of Statistics.

Admission in BS (4-Year) program are offered subject to the minimum enrolment of 25 students. Admissions are done at the Department of Statistics and the first four semesters are taught at the Directorate of Undergraduate Studies.

Eligibility for BS (4-Year)

A candidate who has passed intermediate examination from a Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education of Pakistan or an equivalent examination recognized by the University is eligible for admission to BS (4-year) provided that the candidate has secured at least 45% marks FA/ FSc or equivalent examination. The preference will be given as follows:

1. FA./ FSc with Statistics subject to securing at least 45% marks in the subject
2. FSc (Pre-Engineering/ Pre-Medical)
3. ICS

Computation of Merit
The merit shall be determined as aggregate marks in F.A./ F.Sc. or equivalent plus marks in the subject plus 20 marks for Hifz-e-Quran.

Scheme of Studies Available with the Department

M.Sc. (Statistics)

(2-Year Program)

As mentioned earlier, the Department has been running the M.Sc program for last 36 years successfully. This is an intensive course and covers all aspects of statistical training both theoretical and practical spectrum.

Keeping in view the concern and desire of the candidates belonging to the Southern Punjab, Department of Statistics has launched M.Sc Evening Program on self finance basis. This program is helpful to those persons who could not continue their education for one reason or the other (such as service or family circumstances). The Statues and Regulations for this program regarding admission system and examination etc. are be the same as those already being practiced in this Department.

This program is available to everybody who applies and fulfills the requirements of admission given in the prospectus. The program starts with minimum number of 30 students.

Computation of Merit

The merit score for M.Sc. will be calculated as Merit Score = A+B+C,
Where the factors A, B and C are defined as follows:

- A:  $A^* = 80\%$  of the percentage of marks obtained in B.A/B.Sc. =  $\frac{\{(Marks\ Obtained\ in\ B.A/B.Sc.)\}}{(Total\ Marks\ in\ B.A/B.Sc.)} \times 80$ ,
- B: B = 10% of the percentage of marks obtained in the subject Statistics in B.A/ B.Sc. =  $\frac{\{(Marks\ Obtained\ in\ the\ subject\ Statistics\ in\ B.A/B.Sc.)\}}{(Total\ Marks\ in\ the\ subject\ Statistics\ in\ B.A/B.Sc.)} \times 10$ ,
- C: C = 10, if the candidate has studied the subject Mathematics of 400 marks in B.A/B.Sc; C = 8, if the candidate has studied the subject Mathematics of 200 marks or the subject Computer Science in B.A/B.Sc.; C = 5, if the candidate has studied the subject Mathematics in F.A/F.Sc.;

 C = 3, if the candidate has studied the subject Computer Science in F.A/F.Sc.;
 C = 0, otherwise.

Example: Suppose a candidate applies for admission in M.Sc. with 486/800 marks in B.A/B.Sc. and 148/200 marks in the subject Statistics in B.A/B.Sc. and he has studied the subject Mathematics of 200 marks in B.A/B.Sc. then his Merit Score will be as under:
 $A=486/800 \times 80=48.60$ ;  $B=148/200 \times 10=7.40$ ;
 $C = 8$ . Thus, Merit Score = 64.00.

* For Hafiz-e-Quran 20 marks will be added to the marks obtained in B.A/B.Sc

M.Phil. Program

Introduction

Statistics is a subject that is relevant to every field of life for the collection, summarization and presentation of information in the most efficient manner. It is also used in analyzing and interpreting the results and modeling of real life situations. Highly qualified and trained statisticians are, therefore, the basic need of every nation for the development of its socio-economic setup. To meet such challenges, the Department of Statistics started M.Phil. classes in 2001. The study of M.Phil. is based on two years training. During the first & second semesters, students undergo the course work and in their remaining year, they are given research task. During this period, the students are given full training of advanced research to meet the requirements of the nation. Moreover, this M.Phil. is a leading program towards Ph.D.

Eligibility for M.Phil. in Statistics

A candidate who has passed the M.Sc. (Statistics) is eligible for admission provided that he/ she has secured at least 50% marks in M.Sc. (Statistics) under Annual System or at least 2.5 CGPA under Semester System and has qualified a test equivalent to GRE (General) organized by the HEC through a testing service, such as NTS. A candidate who has passed BS (4-year) in Statistics is also eligible with at least 2.5 CGPA in BS (4-year) in Statistics provided that he/ she has passed the admission test, described above.

Introduction

Molecular Biology and Biotechnology is defined as the application of scientific and engineering principles to the processing of materials by biological agents to produce goods and services. The completion of human genome and Arabidopsis genome projects in the year 2000 were great breakthroughs in the field of biotechnology. In the past twenty years, unprecedented progress in molecular biology & biotechnology has been observed, which has made revolutionary impacts on every aspect of human activity such as agriculture, forestry, horticulture, livestock, health, medicine and environment. In agriculture, it is predicted that the next green revolution or more appropriately “evergreen revolution” will be due to biotechnological innovations. In livestock, production of new transgenic animals will not only meet the future needs of protein, dairy products etc but these animals could also be used as bioreactor for the production for various pharmaceuticals products. New safe protein drugs, particularly by site-directed mutagenesis, vaccines, diagnostic kits, antibiotics and enzymes can be produced by exploiting the biotechnology in the field of medicine (Medical biotechnology). The genetic based diagnostic assays for some genetic disorders and other diseases have already been developed and their treatment by gene therapy would be possible.

The primary objective of the Institute of Molecular Biology & Biotechnology is to produce manpower that can contribute to the development of Pakistan particularly in science and technology and its economy in general. Institute of Biotechnology has been established with initial HEC grant of 38 million rupees. It offers M.Sc., M.Phil and PhD programs of study. The Institute houses most modern teaching and research laboratories with the following equipment:

- Thermal Cycler (PCR)
- Gel Documentation System

- Vertical/Horizontal gel electrophoresis system
- Fermenter
- Atomic Absorption Spectrophotometer
- Bomb Calorimeter
- Freeze Dryer
- Ultra-centrifuge machine
- Incubators, CO<sub>2</sub> Incubator

- UV-Visible Spectrophotometer
- Laminar Flow hood
- Rotary evaporator
- Orbital shaker
- Hybridization oven
- Inverted Microscope
- Ultra low temperature refrigerators (-20 to -80 °C)

Introduction

The Department of Biochemistry has been established this year with the approval of the concerned University Authorities. Although Biochemistry section was working since 1975 under the umbrella of the Department of Chemistry, yet it has now been given independent identity. A large number of students have got their M.Sc., M.Phil. and Ph.D. degrees in Chemistry with specialization in Biochemistry. Several students have completed their theses of research in Biochemistry.

Biochemistry is at the core of molecular life sciences. Graduates of Biochemistry may serve in the pharmaceutical and food industries of Pakistan. A number of opportunities are also available in the clinical laboratories and teaching/research institutions. The Department also caters subsidiary requirements of allied biological subjects. Presently, the Department is housed in the building of Center for Undergraduate Studies. To begin with, BS (4-Year) program is being offered this year. M.Sc., M. Phil./MS and Ph.D. programs will hopefully be offered from next year. Curricula have been developed under the guideline of Higher Education Commission to cover all the recent areas of Biochemistry.

Introduction

Department of Environmental Sciences has been established in June 2010 keeping in view the pivotal importance of this subject in Pakistan. This subject has gathered a high reputation all around the world due to its applied nature. Environmental science is a cosmopolitan subject because it deals with various branches of studies like chemistry, physics, botany, zoology, geology, geography, and public health etc. It focuses on the sources, reactions, transport, effects and fate of physical and biological species in the air, water and soil along with the effects of human activity upon these. Air, water, land, and noise pollution constantly imperil quality of life and damage the pristine environment. World today is facing serious environmental crisis, for instance, increase in the heat budget of the earth, depletion of non-renewable resources, air pollution, pollution of surface & ground waters, heavy metal pollution, massive destruction of habitats, deforestation, mining, over-fishing and radiation pollution. Ecosystem of earth is very fragile, and that man's tampering with it may, in the end, make the earth unlivable, not only for man but for all life forms.

Environmental pollution drastically reduces the productivity of plants, and is primarily involved in causing several illnesses to the humans: ranging from breathing disorders, cancer, stomach upset, skin allergies, cardiovascular problems, neurobehavioral ailments, kidney damage, typhoid, hepatitis, and most of the enteric & diarrheal diseases due to transmittance of microorganisms via the contaminated water. Atmospheric climate of major cities of Pakistan is also in grave danger due to unchecked noxious emissions by motor traffic, industries and other sources. Hence, Pakistan is plagued with a multitude of environmental problems that needs urgent attention and appropriate action to save the environment for better tomorrow. Department of Environmental Science herein BZ University, Multan will contribute devoted and skilled manpower to address the environmental problems of the country on scientific grounds. Parallel to research activities, graduates from this discipline will impart their knowledge at graduate and postgraduate levels at various educational institutions of Pakistan and abroad.

Objectives

Environmental awareness among society and especially in students will be of utmost importance as they are future leaders, future custodians, planners, policy makers, and educators of the environmental issues. Students will undertake basic and applied research on different environmental issues, and will assist government departments, private sector, and other relevant organizations on the framing of rules & regulations along with establishment of appropriate institutions and systems etc. Following are the key objectives of Department of Environmental Science:

1. To produce enthusiastic, skilled and motivated environmentalists
2. Addressing environmental issues and hazardous wastes/effluents
3. Solid waste management/recycling technologies
4. Causes and control of air, water and land pollution
5. Integrated pest management/biological control of diseases
6. Improving & conserving biodiversity and supporting forestry
7. Fumigation studies for screening native crops and fruits
8. Environmental impact assessment studies
9. Preservation of cultural heritage from pollutants
10. Imparting applied environmental education to society

Graduate Program in Environmental Science

Bachelor of Environmental Science (Hons.):

Environmental Science is an emerging science as a discipline which is highly inter and multi-disciplinary in nature, integrating natural sciences, social sciences and humanities in a holistic study of the world around us. The Bachelors degree program will be of four years and/or eight semesters, in the semester system. The nomenclature for this four-year degree program will be "Bachelor of Environmental Science (Hons.)" consisting minimum of 130 and maximum of 140 credit hours including compulsory courses of English, Islamic Studies and Pakistan Studies. The following courses were identified by the Higher Education Commission of Pakistan to be included in the curriculum of four-year Bachelor of Environmental Science (Hons.) degree. The proposed workload is maximum in the first year and minimum in the final year for the purpose of giving relief for research work and career-oriented activities.

Introduction

Agricultural potential and specific ecological conditions of the region led to the establishment of Agriculture College of Bahauddin Zakariya University, Multan in 1989. The construction of the College building was started in 1990. At present the College has independent academic blocks for Agronomy, Soil Science, Entomology, Plant Pathology, Horticulture, Plant Breeding & Genetics, Forestry & Range Management and Agricultural Engineering. Fully equipped research laboratories have been established by each department for conduct of practical and research work. In addition "Central Postgraduate Research Laboratory" and "Chrysopa Research Laboratory" have been established recently for postgraduate students.

Moreover, construction of academic block for Agricultural Economics & Biometrics and Agricultural Education & Extension departments along with 75 staff residences have been completed recently.

A boy's hostel [Hamza Hall] for 250 students and 19 residences for academic staff have also been constructed.

Now, the College is being elevated to the status of a faculty named "Faculty of Agricultural Sciences & Technology" with keen interest and auspicious guidance of Worthy Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Syed Khawaja Alqama and on the intellectual input of teachers, along with ten independent departments headed by respective Chairman/Chairperson.

The syndicate has endorsed the recommendations of Advanced Studies and Research Board to the Senate for the establishment of the Faculty of Agricultural Sciences and Technology with the following Departments.

- iv) Food Process Engineering (FPE).

An Independent Administration Block, central library, Museum, Auditorium and a Civic Center have been completed and are functional straight away.

At present the Faculty has 52 regular/ full time teachers and a number of visiting teachers borrowed from various departments of the University, Agriculture Departments & Institutes at Multan. Out of 52 regular /full time teachers, 38 are Ph.D. degrees holders, while 11 teachers are enrolled for Ph.D. at various universities. Twenty one teachers have done their doctorate or post doctorate from various universities of technologically advanced countries like, Australia, China, Japan, Korea, UK and USA, having a number of research publications in high Impact Factor bearing journals. Seven Assistant Professors are also serving under Tenure Track System of HEC and one Professor is taken from USA under Foreign Faculty Program of HEC.

Experimental/Research Farm

Agricultural Experimental Farm of 40 acres is attached with the Faculty for demonstration of crop production practices, and 20 acres are reserved for faculty research. Research work has been initiated on various aspects of field and horticultural crops. The emphasis is on the development of improved varieties of crop along with improvement of cultural practices, cropping system, weed control, insect toxicology, insecticide resistance, integrated pest management strategies, drip irrigation system, tunnel farming and Agro-forestry suited to the local conditions.

Nine acres of mango and citrus orchard and five acres of tree plantation with mixed indigenous species have been established under drip irrigation system. Six rows of different tree species along with the College boundary wall irrigated with bubbler and drip irrigation system have also been established for clean and green environment.

BZU Sub-Campus, D. G. Khan

Introduction

In order to improve the academic facilities of remote areas former Governor of Punjab Lt General (Rtd) Khalid Maqbool opened up sub Campuses of the public sector universities with a vision to transform them into independent universities in the future. With this vision in mind D.G.Khan sub campus was established in 2004 by Bahauddin Zakariya University, Multan. The campus has grown from one department to five departments within a span of just five years with many new departments in pipeline as well.

The goal of the campus has always been to produce quality rather than quantity. Focus has always been to develop close liaison with the industry, for this regular industrial visits have been arranged in past and this would continue in the future as well. Eminent speakers from regional as well as national business leaders are invited for regular seminars. To orient students with professional knowledge internships are arranged for the students.

Upon completion , new Building at Airport Road was inaugurated by the Ex-Prime Minister of Pakistan Syed Yousaf Raza Gillani on 17-01-2011.

Programs that have currently been conducted are MBA, BBA (Morningand Evening), MCS, MSc Economics, MA English and MSc Sociology. Programs like BS(CS), BS(IT), MIT , MCS(Evening) ,and LLB are in pipeline. Along with new programs the university is planning to start new departments like Biotechnology, Environmental Sciences, Communication Studies and Pharmacy. So far we have also started the classes under distance learning program.

The campus is currently equipped with a state of the art computer lab. The lab also includes the facility of HEC Digital library. Soon new computer lab with latest machines would also be established along with high speed DSL. The campus in near future would be operating on Wi-Fi technology. Moreover, facility of video conferencing would be available to the students in future as well. Library includes almost all reference books of the courses that are being conducted, as well as other books and up-gradation of the library is also in process.

Students would also be provided with latest edition of well reputed journals.

A unique joint degree program with international universities for the students of the university is also under consideration. This would greatly improve the academic as well as the communication skills of the students. We will shift some programs in our newly constructed building this year.

Introduction

Agriculture sector plays a vital role in Pakistan's economy. It is the 2nd largest sector, accounting for over 21% to GDP. The sector employs about 45% of the country's total labour work force. Almost 62% of the country's population live in rural areas and is directly or indirectly linked with agriculture for their livelihood. The sector is a primary supplier of raw materials to downstream industry, contributing substantially to Pakistan's exports.

There are three ecological zones in Punjab i.e. Barani Districts, Northern Irrigated Districts and Southern Irrigated Districts including Cholistan. Layyah is located in Barani Area and situated between the rivers Indus and Chenab in the central area of Pakistan. The district has variety of soils, being more fertile on western side near the Indus River and barren in the east. As we go from west to east, soil fertility decreases and at the extreme east there is desert "Thal" with sand dunes. The western areas of the district are canal irrigated while the eastern part is rain fed (Barani). Due to diversity in ecological conditions, almost all types of agronomic and vegetable crops and tropical and subtropical fruits can be grown. The district also has forests, rangelands and livestock farms. As far as geographical position is concerned, Bhakkar district is in the north, Muzaffargarh is in the south, Jhang is in the east and Tehsil Taunsa Sharif of D.G Khan district is in the west across the Indus river. Human population of Layyah is 1.1 million as per Population Census 1998, percentage break-up of the rural and urban population is 87.2 and 12.8 respectively.

In the neighbouring districts of Layyah i.e. Bhakkar, Mianwali, Khushab, Jhang and Muzaffar Garh there is no Agricultural College to offer graduate and postgraduate degree programs. District Layyah is one of the least industrially developed districts of Punjab. Majority of the population depends upon agriculture for their livelihood. Realizing the need for the agriculture in the area, Honourable Chief Minister Punjab approved the establishment of the College of Agriculture at Bahadur Sub-campus of Bahauddin Zakariya University at Layyah in 2011. In this College, the study will be focused on all aspects of crop production, protection and improvement. This will help in poverty alleviation in region and at the same time will help in the enhancement of food production to feed the increasing population in the country.

The establishment of Agriculture College will enhance the number of agricultural graduates in Punjab. The College has initiated 4-years degree program of B.Sc (Hons.) Agriculture with specialization in various disciplines. Later, M.Phil and Ph.D program will also be launched which will hopefully help in meeting professional / skilled manpower for the Agriculture Sector particularly in the Southern Punjab. The College has been established at the available land of Bahadur Sub-campus. The class of B.Sc. (Hons.) Agriculture will be started from the coming session i.e.2012.

Objective

- The College of Agriculture, Layyah, will take responsibility of providing leadership & professionalism in crop production, improvement and other allied sectors throughout Punjab in general and local region in particular.
- To provide facilities of education, teaching, training and research in various disciplines of Agricultural Sciences. The trained professionals will contribute to the scientific advancement in Agriculture Sector. The College hopefully will produce 60 Agricultural graduates initially then 100 graduates annually. Similarly, 50 M.Phil will also be admitted in different disciplines during the 5th year of the project. The College after its development phase will also train more than 100 persons annually by offering short courses and diploma programs.
- To undertake extension activities in various fields of specialization to benefit the community by their higher knowledge and expertise.
- To provide the required professional and skilled manpower for crop production and allied sectors, which will help to enhance the production potential of the food and cash in the region. This will help in meeting the demand for foods for ever increasing human population in the country.
- To help in enhancing the socio-economic status of the rural population engaged in Agriculture Sector resulting in poverty alleviation.
